

7 Steps Strategy

Remember guys, the purpose of this strategy is to make it as simple as possible. This ensures you can implement it and actually see results. I'll give you a quick overview and then I will go into detail, step by step. So you understand the process. There is a lot of micro steps within each stage of this strategy, but do not worry about those just yet as they are explained in the training. Below this video/text find tools that you will need.

Step 1: You identify a niche by finding a problem or solution a certain group of people are looking for (don't worry, this is easier than you think).

Step 2: You set up the basic framework of your website, consisting of a single page and some legal pages. (Nothing complicated here because we want you to move forward fast!)

Step 3: You set up a You Tube channel and start producing tutorial-based videos, software tutorials, how-to videos and so on. (Don't panic about creating these, it is dead easy!)

Step 4: All your videos are linked to a landing page where visitors come and check out your own training recommendations.

Step 5: Visitors put in their email address and they are then forwarded to an affiliate offer where you make a commission when they buy it.

Step 6: The automated email series you set up will follow up with additional offers where you make more commissions.

Step 7: Rinse and Repeat! Continue to make more videos for You Tube. The more videos you have, the more views, traffic, leads and sales will come in.

That is all there is to it, guys. This may seem too simple to be true but here is the secret, keep it super simple and you see results faster.

Too many people over complicate things with fancy tools, plugins and software. Do not over complicate things with needless steps, actions and processes which do not matter at this stage. If you are confused at this point, do not worry. This training will literally walk you through every single click. If you stick with this and you work hard then you will see results, but it depends on you doing the work. Success does not come out of nowhere. It comes from hard work!
